

Build open and honest physician-administrator communication

NEW!

BETTER COMMUNICATION FOR BETTER CARE Mastering Physician-Administrator Collaboration Kenneth H. Cohn, M.D.

If you are like most healthcare professionals, you have first-hand experience of the culture clashes that can occur between physicians and administrators. This book provides fresh tools and ideas for overcoming the training, outlook, and culture issues that have plagued physician-administrator relationships.

Conflict is inevitable in high-stress environments. This book will help you rise above frustrations with open and productive communication. It presents practical strategies for making dialogue a high priority and working closely together toward a common purpose.

Kenneth H. Cohn, M.D., FACS,

is a board-certified general surgeon, currently splitting his time between providing locum tenens surgical coverage in New Hampshire and Vermont and working as a consultant at Cambridge Management Group, which specializes in physician-physician and physician-administration communication issues.

Tools described in this book will help you:

- Build on past successes instead of focusing on perceived weaknesses
- Stimulate cooperation by setting clinical priorities as a team
- Facilitate financial alliances through various partnerships
- Attack problems rather than people when conflict arises
- Foster conflict resolution and teamwork between nurses and physicians
- Identify and manage the consequences of workplace burnout
- Increase the effectiveness of new physician orientation

“One of the highest priorities for healthcare leaders is enhancing physician and hospital integration. Recognizing the inherent differences between physicians and executives, Dr. Cohn clearly outlines specific tools and methodologies for building stronger relationships. This book includes vibrant discussions based on personal experience on such topics as the competing physician, the need for structured dialogue, and the consequences of workplace burnout. This is a much-needed book for both physicians and administrators who share the responsibility of improving care for their patients.”
